The Carbonear Council is taking court action on individuals who do not comply with orders of the Council of the Town of Carbonear concerning clean up of property and repairs and/or removal of dilapidated buildings. Court action has been taken on property owners in breach of Section 419 of the Municipalities Act for continued non-compliance with orders of Council to clean up debris on properties or remove dilapidated buildings. Provincial Court fines have ranged from $100 to $3000. Another property owner is currently before the court with a court date set for February 2012.

A number of orders have been sent to property owners and Council would like to extend their appreciation to those who completed the required clean up. The Carbonear Town Council encourages the cooperation of those receiving orders from Council.

Council will work with property owners making reasonable requests concerning clean up of their property and repairs and/or removal of dilapidated buildings. Council will continue to take court action against those who do not comply with orders.
